Bennett Believes Indians Should Better Own Lot

WASHINGTON (AP) — Robert LaFollette Bennett is an Indian who firmly believes Indians should be doing more to shape their own destiny. He says he'll work toward that goal—and the lessening of government supervision that it would bring—after he takes over this week as head of the federal government's Bureau of Indian Affairs.

When he is sworn in Wednesday as Indian commissioner, he will become the first Indian in nearly a century—and only the second in history—to hold that position. He succeeds Philo Nash, who resigned.

The commissioner-designate, born on the Oneida Indian reservation in Wisconsin, started his government career on the Ute Indian reservation in Utah 33 years ago after graduating from an Indian boarding school in Kansas.

His steady climb up through the bureau was climaxed last month when President Johnson nominated him for the agency's top job.

Of the nation's 550,000 Indians, some 380,000 still live on reservations, many in squalor and abject poverty, and Bennett plans to ask the Indians what can be done to improve their lot.

He disclosed in an interview that he will hold a series of meetings with Indians this summer. The sessions probably will be held, he said, in the Southwest, Northwest and northern Plains—where most reservations are located.

"We need their contributions...I expect them to make more of their own decisions," Bennett said. "Where we feel we need legislation to give the tribes more authority, we will go to Congress and ask for that legislation."

This is all designed to lead to less government supervision of Indians—one of Bennett's aims. "Indian people are becoming better educated, and I think they should be free to use this education and experience as much as possible in shaping their own destiny," he said.

Guild Strikes Merged Papers In New York

NEW YORK (AP)—A strike by the Newspaper Guild of New York has shut down the merged World Journal Tribune before the new corporation could start publication which had been scheduled for today.

A voluntary shutdown by four other daily newspapers was averted when their publishers decided to keep printing on a day-to-day basis.

Matt Meyer, president of the new corporation, said shortly before midnight that he could not predict when the merged papers would be published. This was in view of the fact that none of the 10 unions in the newspaper industry has a contract with the World Journal Tribune Inc.

The AFL-CIO Newspaper Guild set up picket lines Sunday at the plants of the Journal-American, the World-Telegram & Sun and the Herald Tribune—all of which published their last editions as separate entities during the weekend.

The pickets signaled the start of the third major newspaper strike here in less than four years.

The publishers said in their original merger announcement on March 21: "The economics of the newspaper industry in New York compel this move."

Commie Flyers Shun U.S. Jets

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Communist war planes stayed well out of the way of American jet aircraft Sunday after their first challenge in 10 months to the U.S. raiders had failed.

The defense of North Vietnamese targets was left to Communist ground gunners who knocked down two U.S. Air Force planes with intense surface-to-air missile and anti-aircraft fire, a U.S. spokesman said.

Two other U.S. planes were lost Saturday, apparently to anti-aircraft fire.

American pilots saw no Communist MIG jets Sunday, a spokesman said, even though U.S. Air Force and Navy planes hammered targets in the same general area where the Americans shot down two MIGs in dogfights Saturday.

On the ground in South Viet Nam, five major American operations met little enemy resistance. But the South Vietnamese said they had better luck.

Vietnamese forces reported killing 245 Viet Cong and capturing 20 weapons along a canal in the Mekong Delta 100 miles southwest of Saigon.

The two U.S. Air Force planes shot down Sunday were F105 Thunderchiefs. A "good chute" was sighted from one plane, indicating the pilot was safe but probably captured. No parachute was sighted from the second plane.

This brought the total number of U.S. planes lost over North Viet Nam to 221.

France Claims NATO Military Idea Outdated

PARIS (AP) — Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville says France is quitting the North Atlantic Treaty Organization's military command because it is out of date, but it doesn't want its friendship with the United States to diminish.

"In the nuclear era, this organization does not deal with the essential element of defense which is nuclear defense," Couve de Murville said. "France does not seek a special advantage. She is adapting herself to a new situation and this can only have advantages for the equilibrium and peace in Europe."

President Charles de Gaulle's government contends that NATO's nuclear arsenal is almost entirely owned and controlled by the United States and that NATO has no effective hand in it.

Values U. S. Friendship

Replying in writing to questions submitted by The Associated Press, the foreign minister said France values American friendship highly. He denied that his government plans a non-aggression pact with the Soviet Union and reiterated that the French would like to "contribute to a peaceful settlement" in Viet Nam.

Couve de Murville said that in withdrawing from the military structure of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, "we are acting normally, as any government, in the interests of our country, and we believe besides that what we are doing is in no manner contrary to the well understood interests of our allies."

He stressed that France intends to remain part of the North Atlantic Treaty signed in 1949. He pointed out that the military organization was developed after the treaty was signed and "is in no way a condition of it." The United States feels, however, that the military organization is an essential part of the alliance.

Intends No Offense

Couve de Murville declared that France had no intention of offending the United States by its stand on NATO or conversion of its excess balance of payments into gold.

"American friendship is an ancient precious value to which we are all attached in France and which we do not wish to see disappear or even diminish," he said.

He noted that the conversion of dollar holdings into gold was provided for by the Bretton Woods agreements and said the United States had always done this in the same circumstances. France notified its NATO allies last month that U.S. and Canadian forces on its soil must leave within a year and that NATO headquarters in France must withdraw by the same time. The United States wants to extend the time limit for at least another year.

Asked what France proposes to do about paying the costs for relocating NATO, Couve de Murville said: "Settlement of financial problems is a matter for negotiations, according to the provisions of the NATO accords or the Franco-American accords."

The foreign minister denied that French policy was maneuvering the United States into closer cooperation with West Germany in military matters.

Dirksen Urges Congress Set Spending Limit

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen carries an anti-inflation banner into a Senate battle today in an effort to limit the scope of a bill to combat rural poverty.

Dirksen's announcement in an interview that he plans to oppose what he called an "open-end" authorization for rural community development programs surprised GOP colleagues who had voted for the measure when it was approved unanimously by the Senate Agriculture Committee.

Chairman Allen J. Ellender, D-La., had predicted speedy approval of the measure. It is designed to carry out President Johnson's proposal to help farmers and small town residents obtain some of the advantages now limited to cities and their suburbs.

But Dirksen said he wants the cost of this program spelled out before the Senate votes on it.

"This is an example of how Congress can open the door to unlimited government spending," he said. "We are in a period of inflation and we must face up to that fact squarely."

"This is an entirely new venture. What is it going to cost in future expenditures at a time when we should be cutting down on domestic programs to help pay for the cost of the Viet Nam war?"

Dirksen said he was informed that the measure originally proposed an outlay of $285 million. But he said it had been amended to authorize the "appropriation of such sums as may be necessary" to carry out its provisions.

The legislation would make federal funds available for development planning in rural and farm areas.

Projects under the measure would include water and sewage systems, health service, educational and teaching facilities, recreational and cultural installations, manpower surveys and training, development of resources and other projects.

Pill Hazard Fear Seems Baseless

WASHINGTON (AP) — Fears that long-term use of the controversial oral birth-control pills put out by several firms might cause cancer or other adverse side-effects appear groundless so far, the original developer of the pills said today.

Indeed, declared Dr. Gregory Pincus of Worcester, Mass., an evaluation of new and past studies of the use of the oral contraceptives — being taken by more than five million women in the United States alone — indicates:

1. Aside from apparently producing no major adverse effects on the reproductive and other endocrine-gland-regulated systems of the female body, the pills have achieved "apparent correction of certain abnormality states" in the womb, cervix (entrance to the womb) and breasts of some women.

2. There's justification to explore the possibility that long-term use of the pills may have the added beneficial effect of helping protect women from developing atherosclerosis — the form of hardening of the arteries under suspicion by many doctors as being a possible contributor to heart attacks.

Dr. Pincus, a cofounder of the Worcester Foundation for Experimental Biology, gave his views in a "progress report" on investigations into long-term use of "The Pill," prepared for the spring meeting of the National Academy of Sciences.

He also said that various studies by other investigators indicate the pills — rather than being a potential cause of cancer — appear to be potentially

Back To Books Effort Led By Negro Leaders

DETROIT (AP) — A student boycott at Northern High School entered a fourth day today as Negro leaders moved to head off a planned boycott of half of Detroit's high schools.

Officials at predominantly Negro Northern said "there seem to be more students in classes today than last week but we won't know for sure until we complete our daily head count sometime this afternoon."

Attendance at the school, which has an enrollment of 2,300, climbed to 964 last Friday—more than double the number of students who went to class during the first two days of the boycott last Wednesday and Thursday.

Many of the absent students are attending classes at a "Freedom School" in a nearby church.

To Extend Boycott

Police said some 100 students paraded in front of Northern for about 15 minutes today and then went to classes at the Freedom School. They said there were no incidents.

Only hours after some 75 pupils decided Sunday to foster a boycott of 12 high schools next Wednesday, school board president Remus G. Robinson appealed for a back-to-school movement.

The 75 youngsters planned the walkout in sympathy with students who stayed away from classes three days last week at Northern High School. Northern pupils are protesting alleged substandard education at the predominantly Negro school. They vow to stay away until their principal is removed.

Robinson, saying "help me get them back in school," pleaded with some 2,500 persons at the 11th annual Fight for Freedom Dinner of the Detroit branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

No Need Now

The Rev. James E. Wadsworth, local NAACP president, told newsmen later "now that the school board has indicated they are willing to consider students' requests there is no need to continue the boycott."

He asserted the NAACP "had never supported the boycott itself," although the organization has asked improvement of educational standards at Northern.

Most Northern pupils stayed away from classes the three days, demanding ouster of Principal Arthur Carly and protesting what they say are inferior educational opportunities.

Robinson, who received a standing ovation at the dinner, said students who walked out at Northern would not be punished. "Let our young people know they have friends, not enemies, on the Board of Education," he said.

Principal Says

Robinson urged parents not to "encourage demands made on the school board which entail impossible administrative changes and thus turn the administration of the schools over to the students."

Samuel M. Brownell, schools superintendent, has refused to remove Carly as principal at Northern.

Teen-aged leaders of the boycott movement, however, were armed with sheets of paper describing a "General Outline for the Boycott" which told the youngsters:

—"Don't back down if the principal or some other administrators threaten you."

—"Don't curse."

—"Carry no weapons of any kind because police undoubtedly will be on the scene."

Pearl Cleage, 17, a planner of the protest and vice president of the senior class at Northwestern High School, said "We intend to have lines in front of the schools" on Wednesday.

"Then we intend to have a rally at a centralized location after that," she said, apparently referring to talk that pupils would demonstrate Wednesday at the Board of Education headquarters.

The meeting of the dissident pupils also was attended by adults representing the Detroit chapter of the Congress on Racial Equality and the West Central Organization, a neighborhood action group.

DeRudder Still Not Conscious

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Marcel DeRudder's surgeons reported some improvement today in a kidney malfunction that has caused new concern for the patient with a partial artificial heart.

"Although the patient has not regained consciousness there are further signs of improvement in the central nervous system with additional return of certain reflexes," the day's first medical bulletin said.

"There is also some improvement of the decreased kidney function reported yesterday."

Methodist Hospital's final bulletin Sunday had reported "some decrease of kidney function" but said laboratory tests indicated the condition was "potentially reversible."

Neither bulletin elaborated on the condition.

The first advisory today also said DeRudder, 65, of Westville, Ill., continues to show general improvement, "particularly in the status of his heart function and circulation."

Knowles Greets Skating Queen

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP) — Wisconsin's Gov. Warren P. Knowles came to Michigan to talk politics and wound up exchanging pleasantries with a Canada ice skating queen.

Fog and rain prevented Knowles from returning immediately to Madison, Wis., Saturday night from a Republican fund-raising dinner in this Upper Michigan city.

So he used the idle time by visiting neighboring Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., and attended a Memorial Gardens ice show, meeting Petra Burka, Canadian star from Toronto. They conversed briefly.

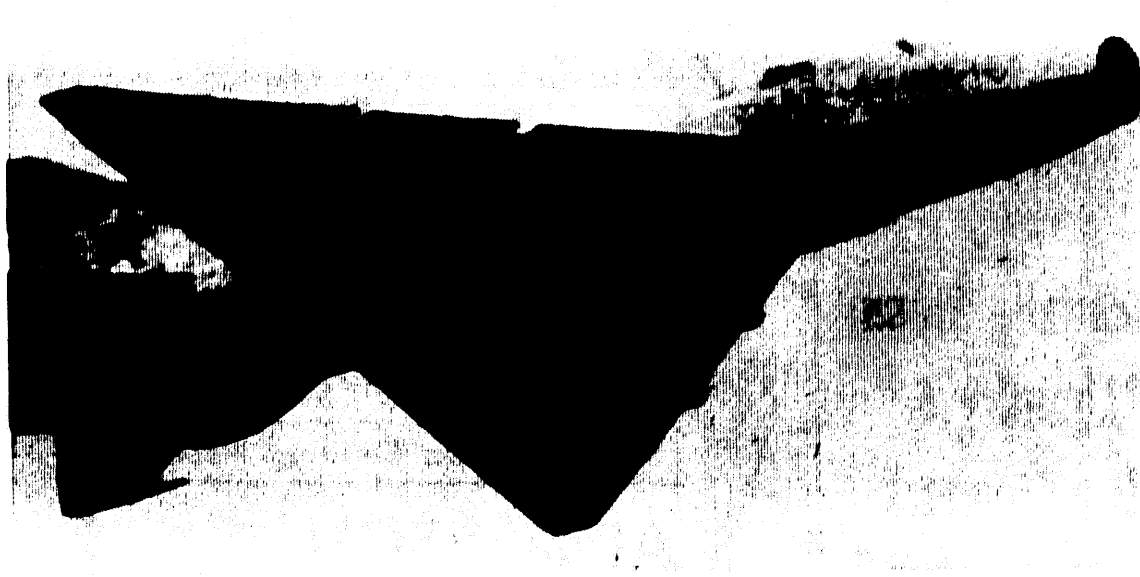

A Michigan State Police trooper drove Knowles across the International Bridge on the St. Marys River to the Canadian city.

Knowles flew back to Madison Sunday.

Judge Robbed

DETROIT (AP)—Police sought clues Sunday in the theft of $14,000 worth of diamond and pearl jewelry from the home of Circuit Judge Charles Kaufman.

The Kaufmans reported the theft from a cabinet Saturday night. There were no signs of a break-in, police said.

Local Painters Display Work At Carnegie Library

An art exhibit of drawings and paintings is scheduled to be held for one month beginning Tuesday at the Carnegie Public Library in Escanaba.

Featured will be the work of members of the Adult Evening School "Watercolor Painting Class", now completing their winter course.

The Watercolor Class has met weekly since January 31, in the Art Room of the Escanaba Area Junior High School.

Members will exhibit drawings and paintings in a variety of media and techniques.

The public is invited to view the display at the Carnegie Public Library anytime after Tuesday.

Translator To Change Site

Upper Peninsula TV Systems of Iron Mountain has published legal notice that it has filed amendments to its application to the Federal Communications Commission in Washington for permission to erect a TV translator system to serve the Escanaba-Gladstone area.

It is presently served by direct antenna reception of Marquette and Green Bay telecasts and by cable TV service by Delta TV Signal Distribution Co.

Richard Abraham, head of U. P. TV Systems, informed FCC that it is changing its application listing the principal city to be served from Gladstone and Gladstone to Escanaba and Gladstone and the channel of the proposed Channel 9 translator on the Gladstone bluff eighth-tenths of a mile northwest of Gladstone to Channel 8 and a site 1.5 miles northeast of Escanaba city limits.

The Channel 8 translator which is proposed would rebroadcast the signal of WFRV-TV, Channel 5, at Green Bay, the Channel 13 translator would rebroadcast WLUC-TV, Marquette, Channel 6, and the Channel 3 translator would rebroadcast WLUC-TV, Channel 11, Green Bay.

Ford Keynotes GOP Campaign

Democratic Spending Inflationary

Three hundred western Upper Peninsula Republicans heard House Majority Leader Gerald Ford call for the defeat of Congressman Raymond Clevenger as a "pure and total puppet" of President Johnson at a $100 a plate fund raising dinner at Northern Michigan University, Marquette Saturday night which raised about $18,000 for the GOP campaign.

Ford urged the 11th Congressional District to elect Republican candidate Philip Ruppe of Houghton in November because Clevenger "doesn't represent this district; he's at the side of the President on all occasions. I hope that the district will reestablish representation that represents you and not the President."

The diners heard pickup of speakers from 7 other GOP diners in the state honoring General Lucius D. Clay, national Republican finance chairman, on his birthday. Speakers included: at Lansing: Gov. George Romney, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower (by wire from California), Lt. Col. John Eisenhower and Gen. Clay; at Cadillac, ex-congressman Dr. Walter Judd of Minnesota; at Sault Ste. Marie, Gov. Warren Knowles of Wisconsin; at Midland, Republican National Chairman Ray Bliss; at Saginaw, Congressman Robert Griffin and Gov. John Love of Colorado; at Battle Creek, Robert Taft, Jr., of Ohio and at Alpena, Senator Thurston Morton of Kentucky.

Raising $6 Million
General Clay said that the Republicans have good leaders "but need troops. If we are going to have the victories we need for good government we need coordination of the state campaigns and those for national office."

The hero of the Berlin crisis, a former Democrat, said "When we raise our budget of $6 million we are going to be able to provide financial support for all the new Republican candidates in the districts where they have any chance of success, and indirect support for those seeking reelection. We are running ahead of schedule in reaching our budget and I'm confident we'll reach it. It is the first time we have attempted this."

Ralph Huhtala, 11th District Republican chairman, said that the district needs $135,000 for this year's election campaign. With good results from the Clay dinners in the district the amount is about half raised, he estimated.

Romney Lauded
The state dinner speakers all praised Governor Romney for his leadership in Michigan and cited his national stature. They had high praise, too, for five times Congressman Robert Griffin who will be the party's nominee for the U.S. Senate.

Toastmaster W. H. Treloar introduced John B. Martin of Grand Rapids as one of the stalwarts of Michigan Republicanism. Martin, the state's national committeeman since 1957 said "Governor Romney is one of the really great figures of the Republican party. He has brought life to the State of Michigan and demonstrated a fact that our Democratic opponents have tried to obscure — that Republicans care about people and their problems."

"Jerry Ford is carrying on the same sort of program in Congress, not content just to carry on the opposition. The Republican program has gone into much legislation that has Democratic names attached to it. As we look to the 1966 elections and 1968 we can take heart. We are moving into a period in which we can again stress the need for limited government and the importance of the individual."

Ford On War
"My remarks have not been cleared with the White House or the Secretary of Defense," said Gerald Ford, minority leader in the House, in humorous reference to the political furor set off by his recent charge that there had been "shocking mismanagement" of the war in Viet Nam by Defense Secretary McNamara. He was also referring to President Johnson's tight control of opinion by Administration spokesmen.

"Despite overwhelming odds and pressures from the White House the Republicans have done a very good job in holding the line against forces that would change our form of government," said Ford. "This (11th) Congressional District has a unique opportunity to improve the quality of Congress and the number of Republican representatives by electing Phil Ruppe."

Ford said "A Bureau of Internal Revenue officials who is my neighbor says it's amazing the number of persons who write in the little square on the income tax form marked 'Please do not write here' such expressions as 'I'll write any damn place I want to!'"

Savers And Spenders
Congress should be the final judge of what we owe and what we spend. Senator Dirksen and I sought to put on record who the savers and who the spenders are in Congress. On six key votes since January involving about $7 billion of non-military expenditures, the Republicans were 93 per cent savers and the Democrats were 82 per cent spenders.

"Spending beyond what we can afford in this crisis is feeding the flames of inflation. Excess spending by the federal government is responsible for the first wartime tax increase in 1966 and it will be more evident after May 1. The men responsible for the second tax increase which is probable in the months ahead are forcing the President to come to Congress to ask for more money."

"Your congressman has been a spender and he's responsible for the increase in the cost of living and for the tax increases."

Political Favoritism
"The President in his State of the Union message turned to the Republican side of the aisle and said 'Who will they sacrifice—the poor?' Senator Dirksen and I replied 'The Republicans will not sacrifice the poor, but we will sacrifice poor administrators, poor programs, poor public arithmetic and political favoritism. We Republicans are not lacking in concern for the people but we can't be for a $1.6 billion War on Poverty bill filled with political favoritism and too high in administrative costs and too poor in administration."

"In the poverty program there are too many interests that can't be justified and unless we bring them under control the good will fall with the bad. The American people are disgusted and disappointed with the Johnson-Humphrey administration and turning to the Republicans for leadership."

"The Democrats, particularly in the Senate, are disorganized and torn with dissent. It gives no leadership in solution of world problems and national security. I think the President would be better off with a Republican Congress as we seek the difficult solutions that evade us."

Support The War
"The Republican party forthrightly stands for the position our nation must take in meeting communist aggression, in Viet Nam, Asia, Berlin or elsewhere. We have a responsibility to assure our 240,000 military personnel in Viet Nam that they have the weapons they need in time to protect themselves and our nation."

"Senator Dirksen (minority Senate leader) and I agree that we must keep the spotlight on the Department of Defense. We disapprove of the Secretary of Defense describing as 'baloney' the charges of respected reporters about (deficiencies) in Viet Nam."

"We must support our defense, but we have spent over $30 billion a year for 5 or 6 years and we have an obligation to see that it is spent so there is timely protection for the lives of the boys from Michigan and the other states that we have sent to Viet Nam."

Taxes Coming
"The President has asked for one war tax increase in 1966 and will probably ask another. He has told business to tighten its belt and asked wage limitations but he has never asked Congress to spend less money and the reason for the increased cost of living is that government is spending more. Inflation is the result of the spendthrift policies of the Johnson-Humphrey Administration and all who've joined it are equally responsible. The Republicans have offered constructive alternatives."

"We remind the public that as they promise benefits they never tell the people that a government big enough to give

QUESTION: We just bought a new auto insurance policy and now we've decided to sell our car. Is there any way of getting anything back on the insurance?

ANSWER: Yes, your agent will be glad to obtain a refund for you. If you are buying another car you can just have the policy changed to cover the new car but if not the refund will be made in cash.

That Other War

The War on Poverty has been getting its lumps lately.

This should cause no joy, even in opponents of the Johnson Administration which is sponsoring it, because there is poverty in this country and there should be a continuing war on it.

Granting that the War on Poverty was launched with honest intention of equalizing economic opportunity in this country and not as a cynical gesture to improve the image of the Democrats at the polls; there was an immense difficulty to overcome in organizing a rescue mission that would not be politically instead of welfare oriented.

The administration must stand for judgment in congressional elections every two years, so it demanded instant results and haste to get them has been the cause of much of the failure, where there has been failure. Realistically, a poverty program scheduled for the future wouldn't satisfy anyone, but essentially the real cure for poverty is education and it's not a quickie process. The substitutes for it are apt to be palliatives, not remedies.

Rep. William Ayres (R-Ohio) said in the House recently that when Poverty Boss Sargent Shriver appeared to urge the program two years ago he said "It is prudently planned in that every dollar allocated will be spent to help the poor. There is no contemplated huge bureaucracy."

Shriver is an able and brave man in a lions den. Two years later there are 6,484 permanent federal employees with salaries totaling $58.5 million. Of these 1,100 are drawing more than $14,600 a year, 25 are getting more than the base pay of our commander in Viet Nam, and five get more than the $26,000 a year paid the U.S. commissioner of education, who runs a much bigger program.

No big government program can be run today without a large expenditure for staffing, and criticism of this sort of spending is prejudicial without being helpful. So are reports like those of last week that welfare roller Ozie Bulock has been getting $160.23 a week at Detroit from two federal antipoverty programs.

Or the earlier report that a Detroit couple with combined annual income of more than $11,000 got one of the first "antipoverty" loans granted there—a $25,000 check.

These sorts of reports and more like them could make the War on Poverty a casualty of this year's election and the country would be poorer for it. Officials of the Office of Economic Opportunity admit (in private) that there have been serious mistakes in judgment in Washington and all down the line and they say there'll probably be more.

But they are impressed that there is need and that something can be done to help. Mounting political pressures, however, call for them to do something immediately. Congressmen want jobs. They suspect Lyndon Johnson's "Great Society" and are willing to dump it and concentrate on jobs. These means have failed in the past and there's no reason to think that they would succeed now.

At the community level, one OEO official admitted "We talked a lot of nonsense in the beginning about letting the poor run their own projects. The basic idea is sound, but they weren't prepared to take over the responsibilities of management. Actually they knew their own shortcomings; they were smarter than we were."

And the poor have been the most expensively critical of the War on Poverty as it's being fought. Under the sponsorship of the Citizens Crusade Against Poverty, which represents 125 social-welfare agencies and other groups, they gathered at Washington recently. CCAP Chairman Walter Reuther, whose United Auto Workers bankrolled the two-year-old organization with a million dollar donation, set a critical tone by saying the Great Society couldn't be built with "halfway, half-hearted" measures or by appropriations "measured with an eyedropper." (President Johnson is proposing a $1.75 billion anti-poverty appropriation next year.)

The meeting became so abusive that Sargent Shriver, told to "shut up," said he wasn't going to participate in a riot and left.

Poverty is the want of many things. The government isn't going to supply all of them soon and a poor program of aid will discredit the effort and make eventual achievement more difficult.

The greatest single misdirection of the War on Poverty has been the creation of a political bureaucracy to conduct it while bypassing the agencies which have been dealing with it and know most about it and could have done most to alleviate it if their resources had been expanded.

Michigan Mirror

By ELMER E. WHITE

New facilities, improved methods and added staff have combined in the past few years to put the Michigan Mental Health Department in a relatively good position regarding patient care in all but one area of concern.

One of the biggest laments heard in recent years was that waiting lists for commitment to mental hospitals are out of hand. At several times there were reported to be as many as 1,500 people awaiting care, including mentally ill children, adults and court-committed criminals.

The most recent report available from the department now indicates the waiting list of mentally ill children has been cut down to 250. This is still a seemingly interminable wait if you know someone on the list, but it represents real progress. Comparable adult figures stand at around 225, as of early this year.

Coupled with these sharp cuts in the formal waiting lists is word from the department that emergencies can be met now.

There have been times when judges were pounding on the Governor's door seeking help to get committed criminals into mental hospitals. They cannot be kept in many local detention facilities because of the lack of segregated facilities required.

The department says three of the mental hospitals serving adults have waiting lists and all are able to admit emergency cases without delay.

Care for retarded children is a different and discouraging story. Despite a sharp increase in the number of people served in this area, the waiting list remains high.

Waiting list for retarded, with the opening of new buildings and the addition of more than 300 beds during the 1964-65 fiscal year, decreased 12 per cent. This lowered it from 1,782 to 1,577.

Perhaps because of increased consciousness of various problems of the retarded, the waiting list cut didn't last. By the first part of this year the waiting list had climbed again to almost 1,700.

Closing In On Cancer

Largest Detective Agency

By ROBERT COCHNAR

NEW YORK (NEA)—Tracking down a missing person requires "the nose of a bloodhound and the perseverance of a private eye," confessed a pretty young housewife who is American Cancer Society volunteer.

She and about 68,000 other volunteers are engaged in a massive, six-year study designed to help cure and prevent cancer. It is the largest undertaking of its kind in the world.

Some of the lengths to which these unpaid amateurs will go to find their men and women would reap the respect of an FBI agent.

Persistent bombardment by mail seems to work best, the volunteers have found. A Pennsylvania worker wrote 17 letters before she located a missionary who had moved to Guatemala.

IN AN EASTERN industrial city, a plant employing several hundred people, many of them subjects, moved on short notice to another state. The volunteer promptly got a list of their new addresses and moved, by letter or by telephone, with them.

When letters or calls fail, these dauntless sleuths resort to more ingenious methods. One elusive subject in a state on the Canadian border was found when the volunteer discovered he was also being hunted by the Royal Canadian Mounted Police. Both got their man.

Another volunteer learned that one of her subjects had divorced her husband, a mail carrier, and moved out of the state without leaving a forwarding address.

THE POSTMASTER advised the researcher to write her, care of her former husband, at the post office. No reply. So each morning for several weeks the volunteer drove her car throughout the city and asked for the name of every mailman she saw.

When the right mailman was found, he reluctantly gave the volunteer his ex-wife's new address, care of her mother. In this way, the cancer volunteer found that the subject had eloped with a sailor, present address unknown. But she knew her subject was alive, and so recorded her.

Originally, each subject was asked to fill out a detailed questionnaire which covered medical and family history; present physical complaints; smoking, eating and drinking habits; occupation; sex life, and other areas.

Most people were willing to complete the forms although after the first flush of cooperation, a few cooled off. One couple, for example, refused to fill out a questionnaire because the volunteer's brother had deserted their daughter.

Another woman wrote: "I thought nothing would come of this study unless you discovered that I had cancer symptoms. I have no symptoms at all. So please remove my name from your files, here, now and forever."

The idea of studying a group of people for cancer clues was first developed in 1975 when Percival Potts, a London physician, noticed that among his patients with cancer of the scrotum, a very large number had been chimney sweeps as children. Heavy exposure to coal dust caused the disease, Potts concluded.

"Almost everything we know today about the causes of cancer in humans has come from studies or groups of people with particular exposures or particular habits," notes Dr. E. Cuyler Hammond, the chief of the American Cancer Society's statistical research center and the man who originated the ACS study.

"The most deadly of all cancers—cancer of the lungs—has been traced to avoidable environmental causes, prolonged inhalation of cigarette smoke. Certain new factors have come to light in the current study to confirm this: Smokers show a death rate from all causes about twice as high as nonsmokers when all other factors are equal."

Cancer of the skin may be caused by years of exposure to sunlight, X-rays, arsenic, certain types of tars, oils and chemicals. Cancer of the bladder has been traced to exposure to aniline dyes. Inhalation of asbestos fibers, beryllium salts and oxides is a recognized potential in the development of lung cancer.

Fortunately, exposure to these substances can be eliminated by protective industrial practices and equipment. "But besides occupation cancers," Hammond says, "There are other dangerous environmental factors that cause cancer. Only selected information from a very large group of people would tell us how and why."

The Doctor Says:

Early Speech Treatment Is Best

By Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt

A mother writes that her 3½-year-old son talks but not understandingly and wants to know whether he will improve with time. By the time a child is 3½, he should be able to speak plainly unless there is a malformation of the voice box, soft palate, hard palate, nasal partition, jaws, lips or tongue. Faulty speech may also be due to mental retardation.

This child's doctor should be able to determine the cause of the trouble, but none of the causes mentioned will disappear with time. Many cities now have remedial speech centers. When such treatment is required the earlier it is started the better.

Q—My 14-month-old son has primary microcephaly. What caused it? Is there any treatment?

A—Microcephaly is an abnormally small brain. Primary implies that no cause, such as infection with the parasite, Toxoplasma, or X ray of the mother's abdomen in the first three months of pregnancy, could be found. In some cases there is a premature closure of the cranial joints. If this is the cause an operation to increase the size of the cranial cavity can be helpful.

Q—My doctor is giving my daughter, 9, Enuretrol to help her stop wetting the bed. Is this drug safe and effective? How does it help?

A—This is a combination of ephedrine and atropine. Both drugs tend to relax the muscles of the bladder wall and tighten the muscle (sphincter) that controls the outlet of the bladder. These drugs have been helpful in controlling bedwetting in children when physical and emotional causes have been ruled out. They are safe in the amount usually prescribed.

Q—I have heard that there is a hypodermic syringe that doesn't use a needle. Giving insulin to a struggling screaming child every day is becoming a nightmare. If you know of such a syringe, please tell me about it.

A—There is a hypodermic or jet injector that will force a fluid through a pinpoint opening and into the skin under a pressure of 75 to 1,200 pounds per square inch. Some training in its proper use is essential because careless handling will damage the skin. It should be available through any surgical supply house.

Golf, just like any other sport, has rules of play and they should be observed just as closely as they are in such games as baseball, football and basketball. A games and rules committee at a meeting at the Escanaba Golf Club decided that all rules of the United States Golf Assn. will be observed at its course.

The senior class of Holy Name High School with the accompaniment of the school's Choral Club presented an operetta, "The Fortune Teller," a new and modern version of Victor Herbert's famous comic opera. The cast of characters included Janet Ammel, Betty Tushak, Jeannette Geigel, Ronald Derouin, Dan Rousseau, Margaret Kroll, Robert Moraki, Mary Weber, Dennis McGinn, Joseph Juetten and Mary Anne Chouinard.

25 years ago — The second annual "Cod Liver Oil Day" in Escanaba and Gladstone was sponsored by the Citizens Health Committee working in conjunction with the Delta County Health Department.

Joe Cleary, a student at Escanaba Senior High School, was elected president of the Orange and Black Hi-Y Society at its annual meeting. Other officers chosen were John St. Martin, vice-president; Fred Thatcher, secretary; Howard C. Peterson, treasurer.

Escanaba students at the University of Michigan, who returned to Ann Arbor after spring vacations at their homes included William Jacobs, Clifford Holmes, Robert Derouin, Frank Bender, Allen Earle, Earl Harris, William Stegath and Edward Murphy.

Questions And Answers

Q—Where is the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier of the American Revolution?

A—In the churchyard of the Old Presbyterian Meeting House, Alexandria, Va.

Q—How many of the planets have been discovered in modern times?

A—Three — Uranus in 1781, Neptune in 1846 and Pluto in 1930.

Q—What plant gave its name to a style of architecture?

A—The Acanthus plant. In architecture the name is given to a leafy decoration that forms part of a Corinthian column.

Q—Which state has the most Indians?

A—According to the latest census, Arizona, with 83,387. Oklahoma ranks second with an Indian population of 64,689.

Ann Landers

Computer Not Sure Way To Mate Either

Dear Ann Landers: I was lower than a skunk — that have been reading a good deal about "Love By Computer." Students on various campuses have made a business of matching up young men and women. They invite interested parties to fill out a questionnaire and state their age, height, weight, religion, financial status, hobbies, politics, ambitions, feelings about sex, fluoridation and the bomb.

The cards are put through a computer and the couples are paired off according to similarity of background and interests. Some of those couples may marry as a result of machine matching, a thought which seems to me downright frightening, if not immoral.

I've heard that automation is coming and that we must adjust ourselves to it, but don't you feel this is going too far? I'd appreciate a reply in the paper — so others can see it.—JAUNDICED EYE

Dear Jaundiced: From the way people-picked marriages have been turning out these past 20 years I don't think a machine could do much worse.

We are living in a sexy, super-charged society which emphasizes glamor, speed, kicks, status and escape. People marry for looks, measurements, or — so help me — "because we dance so well together." What they call love is actually one set of glands calling to another.

There is plenty of evidence that marriages work out best between individuals of the same race and religion. And where there is similarity of educational background, values and long-term goals, the marriage has a far better chance to succeed. Selections made on the basis of what two people can share are bound to be more solid than marriages between people "who turn each other on."

But the computer obviously does not hold the answer—witness the high school senior in Kewanee, Ill., who wound up matched with his sister.

Dear Ann: Seven years ago my handsome, good-for-nothing husband blew town and left me with four small children. He scrambled when the court ordered him to pay child support.

Yesterday I went to school to pick up my two youngest and for the first time in seven years I saw my husband. He was standing on the sidewalk in front of the school, holding pictures of the children — trying to spot them in the crowd. I went over and told him he laws.

College Names 2 To Faculty

Two new faculty members accepted appointments at Bay de Noc Community College. James P. Blaisdell will come from Wyoming to teach history and George A. Peterson from Sturgeon Bay, Wis., to teach mathematics.

Blaisdell is presently employed by the Wyoming State Land and Water Conservation Commission in Laramie. Prior to this he was a teaching assistant at the University of California, wrote a history of conservation for publication in connection with Wyoming's 75th Anniversary, worked as a ranch hand in Nevada and Montana, as an oil field roustabout in Texas, and as a sport parachute instructor in Massachusetts.

Last year he and his wife traveled and camped for seven months in Europe. He received his Bachelor's Degree from Dartmouth and his Master's Degree from the University of Wyoming, both in history. Blaisdell spent three years in the army. Mrs. Blaisdell will come to Escanaba to select a home in the early summer and Blaisdell will follow when he finishes his current project with the Land Commission.

George Peterson is a native of Escanaba and will be returning from teaching for four years at the Sturgeon Bay High School. Prior to that he had taught four years at Rock River Township Schools. He attended Michigan Technological University and received his Bachelor's and Master's Degrees from Northern Michigan University.

Peterson is a member of the National Educational Association, the National Council of Teachers of Mathematics, and had served one year as an officer for the Upper Peninsula Council of Teachers of Mathematics. He is married and Mrs. Peterson is presently teaching vocal music at Sturgeon Bay High School.

His father was the late George O. Peterson, formerly affiliated with the Delta County Road Commission, and his mother is presently employed at Shriners Hospital in Chicago.

Joseph Micheau Dies Sunday

Joseph J. Micheau Sr., 75, of Rte. 1, Escanaba, died at 10 a.m. Sunday at St. Francis Hospital where he had been a patient for one day. He had been in ill health for about 10 years.

Born Sept. 15, 1898 in Schafter, he had been a resident of Delta County all of his life. He was a member of St. Anne's Church. He had worked as a woods jobber and was the former proprietor of the Breezy Bar. He also owned and operated tourist cabins.

He is survived by his widow the former Delia King, five sons, Howard and Joseph Jr. of Rapid River, Arnold of Kipling, Leon and Roger, Rte. 1, Escanaba; two daughters, Mrs. Clifford (Jean) Roberts of Escanaba and Mrs. Floyd (Vivian) St. Cyr of Cornell; one brother, Henry Micheau of Rapid River. 62 grandchildren and 24 great grandchildren. Another son, Gordon, died Jan. 28, 1966.

Friends may call at the Alto Funeral Home from 3 to 9:30 p.m. Monday and parish prayers will be recited at 8 p.m. Monday. Funeral services will be held at 9 a.m. Tuesday at St. Anne's Church with Rev. Stephen Mayrand officiating. Burial will be in the Rapid River Cemetery.

Escanaba Bands Win Top Ratings

There was "music in the air" at the Escanaba Area Public High School on Saturday as 1,800 band students representing 27 high schools in the Upper Peninsula held their annual band festival.

After the student performed for the judges they filled the downtown area, proudly resplendent in their colorful uniforms. It was a perfect day for the festival, and according to the festival manager, John Chown, one of the most successful festivals in recent years educationally and musically.

The Escanaba Area Public High School Select Concert Band received "First" division rating from all judges at the U.P. band festival. The band was highly complimented on its "outstanding" performance of concert band literature of professional quality.

Win Two Firsts

The 100 piece band directed by Chown performed "Toccata Marziale" by Ralph Vaughn Williams, "Variations on a Medieval Tune" by Norman Dello Joio. This is the fifth straight year that the band has received a first division rating.

Fourteen band members of this band were selected to play in the U.P. Select Band. They were Sue LaPorte, flute; Chris Olsen, flute; Jean Kitterer, flute; Sally Barrett, oboe; Judy Bender, E flat clarinet; Mary Kay Finstrom, clarinet; Tom Marrier, E flat alto clarinet; Marietta Carlson, contra bass clarinet; Steve Kell, alto saxophone; Arlene Chorn, cornet; Rick Dewar, cornet; Don Nyquist, trombone; Bryan Bender, baritone; Kathy Gilstrap, french horn; Douglas Heberd, tympani.

The Escanaba Area Public High School Varsity Band, whose members are freshmen and sophomores, also received "First Division" rating from all the judges. The 95 piece band is also directed by Chown.

The Varsity Band performed compositions by Bach, Boyer and Fimmore. This is the second year that the Varsity Band has competed in the U.P. Festival—the first time in this history of the festival that two bands from the same high school received "first division" rating from all judges.

Successful Event
Students enjoyed music and instrument displays through the courtesy of Marrier Music and the Delta Music Center. Each band was recorded in their performance by a representative of Century Records Co. and will be presented to the bands as a memento of their festival day.

A capacity crowd enjoyed the evening in the high school gym. The band was conducted by Dr. Joseph Casey and David Kuelin of Wisconsin State University in Eau Claire.

Also presenting selection at the concert were Andrea Siker-sky, pianist; Richard Matson, cellist, and Elizabeth Polkki, soprano.

Festival officials from the school's music department who helped make the festival an outstanding event were Conrad Beck, Dave Laakso, Mrs. Beverly Moraco, Mrs. George Embs, Mrs. M. H. Garrard, Robert Chase, Mrs. Ruth Chase, Vern Hilenfeldt and Mrs. Ruth Alingham. Dennis Foltman and the printing department printed the official programs for the event.

The Escanaba Chamber of Commerce were host to a directors' dinner before the evening program.

Players Promise Exciting Comedy

The Players de Noc are predicting that audiences will be as thrilled with "The Solid Gold Cadillac" as is the cast and production crew in rehearsing for the hit comedy, to be presented Wednesday, Friday and Sunday nights at the Area High School auditorium.

Curtain time on Wednesday is 8 p.m.

The Howard Teichman-George S. Kaufman play about the intrusion of a "little old lady" into the business world is always humorous and often hilarious. The play has two acts and 14 scenes.

Deanne Riedlsperger has the role of Laura Partridge, a comely old lady with the ability of a shrew, who by design or accident, manages to throw the orderly world of General Products into complete disorder.

Ed McKeever, ex-corporation head and Washington bureau-erat is portrayed by William Williams. He joins Mrs. Partridge in her attempts to outwit the four corporation directors.

The Board of Directors presents a unique collection of business leaders. Jack Blessington, chairman of the board, played by Max Riedlsperger, accepts his success with all its social implications and a minimum of any real effort.

Al Metcalf, president of the company, is portrayed by Donald Ethier. Warren Gillie, secretary, is played by Dick Hanson; and the role of Cliff Snell, treasurer and executive vice-president, is played by Kenneth Wicklander.

Rounding out the cast are Miss Shotgraven, an efficient but not too wordy secretary, played by Polly Trotter; Mark Jenkins the office mail boy, played by Dick Gordon; Miss Logan, a secretary unique to her profession, played by Suzanne Emmerson; and Miss L'Arriere a model and "companion" of Mr. Blessington, played by Karen Olsen.

The play is directed by Jack Romstad, whose deft and experienced touches assure fine entertainment.

Tickets are available at Ernie's Party Store, Gust Asps, West End Drug Store, and Beck's Western Auto in Escanaba and at Buchmans' General Store in Rapid River. Tickets will also be available at the door of the Escanaba Area High School Auditorium for all performances.

Tigers Sweep Pair; Second This Season

DETROIT (AP)—Home for a two-night stand against the American League champion Minnesota Twins, the Detroit Tigers could brag today.

They have accomplished twice what it took them all the way to July 27th of last season to do once.

They have swept two double-headers. No. 2 came against the Senators at Washington Sunday, 4-0 and 4-1. The first sweep was against the New York Yankees.

The Tigers dropped both games of their first five double-headers in 1965, split the sixth and fell back into their losing ways. Their first double victory was registered against Cleveland July 21.

Fitcher Bill Monbouquette, acquired from Boston in a winter trade, blanked Washington 4-0 in Sunday's opener, a game, incidentally, in which Senator pitcher Pete Richert tied the league record by striking out seven Tigers in a row.

Richert got the first 12 men to face him, nine on strikes. His seven strikeouts in a row equaled the league mark held jointly by Ryne Duren, of Los Angeles, and Denny McLain. McLain was Detroit Manager Charlie Dressen's choice for tonight's opener against the Twins.

Richert departed in the seventh, after Don Demeter doubled and scored on Ken McMullen's error. Al Kaline had snapped the strikeout string with a leadoff double in the fifth and then had scored on Demeter's single. Orlando McFarlane's single got Demeter around to the plate.

The Washington hurler started his streak by fanning Demeter to end the second inning. He struck out Ray Oyler, McFarlane and Monbouquette in the third and Dick Tracowski, Don Wert and Norm Cash in the fourth.

Cash was Detroit's second-game hero, tripling across a run, scoring himself in a three-run third inning and clouting a homer in the eighth.

Joe Sparna had a one-hit shutout for six innings. But after he walked leadoff batter Jim King in the seventh and gave up a single to Dick Nen, Dressen called in Larry Sherry.

Sherry gave up a run on Ed Brinkman's single but pre-

Wings' Victory Most Important

MONTREAL (AP)—How important was the Red Wings' victory over Montreal Sunday? Just about the most important triumph they will have this season—if history repeats itself.

Only four times in the previous 39 years of play for the coveted Stanley Cup has the team which won the opening game of the final series failed to emerge as champion.

The Red Wings, who have a 7-10 record in the finals, were losers in one of the few series which saw a team win the opening game and yet fail to win the cup. That happened in 1942 when Detroit took the first three games only to see Toronto charge back to win the series.

That Toronto victory also marked the only time a team finished the regular season in fourth place and won the cup. The Red Wings finished fourth this year.

Experts Right; Plymouth Wins

MARTINSVILLE, Va. (AP)—The experts wrote off the Fords for the Virginia 500 stock car race, and, according to the final scoring sheet, they were right.

Jim Paschal of High Point, N.C., won the race in a 1966 Plymouth, followed by Paul Goldsmith, of Munster, Ind., in a 1965 Plymouth, and Richard Petty of Randleman, N.C., in another 1966 Plymouth.

Paschal started from the pole position and led 368 laps of the 500-lap race despite a scoring error that at first gave the win to Goldsmith.

Mays Gets Historic Homerun To Tie Ott

By The Associated Press
One baseball, slightly scuffed, $50.

Herman Franks may have an interesting time explaining that item on the next expense account he hands the San Francisco Giants.

But it's legitimate. So was the cause — the 511th homer of Willie Mays' career, a 420-foot shot in the eighth inning that tied Mel Ott's National League career record and triggered the Giants to a 4-2 victory over Houston Sunday.

Mays came to the plate with the Giants trailing 2-1, took aim at Jim Owen's 2-0 pitch and drilled a belt-high fastball into the Astrodom's left center field seats, where H. V. Smith of Palestine, Tex., pounced on the baseball.

Smith eventually got his reward, and Mays his trophy when Franks popped into the dressing room after game and walked up to his $125,000 center fielder with the ball sitting in the palm of his hand.

"Here," said Franks. "I paid the man 50 bucks for this."

Then Mays took over.

"I was going for a homer every time up," he admitted. "I wanted to do it in San Francisco, but the game was on television and I don't guess it makes much difference. I know it made our fans happy."

"It was just one home run."

Just one more home run will put Mays into fourth place on the all-time homer list, ahead of Ott, and behind only Ted Williams with 521, Jimmy Foxx with 534 and Babe Ruth with 714. Barring injury, Mays should pass all but Ruth this season.

While Mays was making history, St. Louis whipped Pittsburgh 5-2, the Chicago Cubs shutout Los Angeles 2-0, Cincinnati edged Philadelphia 3-2 in a game shortened to 5 1/2 innings by rain and Atlanta downed the New York Mets 5-2 before losing the nightcap 3-2.

Mays' homer, his sixth of the season, lifted the Giants into a 2-2 tie, and one out later, they clinched it when Jim Hart rocketed a solo homer off Owens into the left field seats.

Ray Sadecki made his first start for the Cardinals but didn't go the distance. However, he stayed around long enough to get two key hits, slugging a two-run homer in the second inning that put it out of the Pirates' reach. Sadecki also singled and scored in the seventh Stallard's relief help.

Rookie Ken Holtzman, a full-time student and part-time pitcher available to the Cubs when they are at home, and veteran Ted Abernathy combined to shut out the Dodgers on five hits. The loser was Don Drysdale, who gave up five hits in the six innings he worked and lost on a two-run triple by Don Kessinger in the second inning.

Johnny Edwards and Vada Pinson homered for the Reds but a triple by Tony Perez and Mel Queen's sacrifice hit in the fourth inning brought in the decisive run that ended Cincinnati's losing streak at six games. Sammy Ellis held the Phillies to three hits in the rain-shortened game but two were homers by John Briggs.

Wade Blasingame won his own game in the opener against the Mets by stroking a two-run single in a three-run second inning uprisings that extended the Braves winning streak to six. But a throwing error by third baseman Eddie Mathews enabled the Mets to push across two seventh inning runs in the nightcap and snap their five-game losing streak despite a two-homer performance by Felipe Alou.

ROGER CROZIER, No. 1, Detroit Red Wing goalie, gets help from Billy Harris (14), Gary Bergman (23) and Norm Ullman in stopping a shot by Montreal's John Ferguson in the first game of the Stanley Cup final series in Montreal Sunday. (AP Wirephoto)

Credit To Crozier As Wings Win, 3-2

MONTREAL (AP)—It appears the Detroit Red Wings will rely on an old script in their quest for the Stanley Cup.

The script — which has Paul Henderson scoring the winning goal and goalie Roger Crozier making the big saves — was used again Sunday as the Red Wings edged Montreal 3-2 in the first game of the Cup finals. Henderson, who scored nine game-winners among his 22 regular season goals and two more in the semifinal series against Chicago, potted the winner early in the third period Sunday and Crozier made it stand up.

Henderson's goal, at 2:14 of the final period, was matched 22 seconds later by Terry Harper, who beat Crozier with a 40-foot shot. After that, the Red Wings tried to keep the play in the Montreal end. But the tactic didn't work to perfection as Crozier still had to make 14 saves. He finished with 33.

"Crozier was fantastic," Manager Coach Sid Abel said. "He was terrific in Chicago but even better here."

stopped J.C. Tremblay on a breakaway attempt while Detroit had the main advantage. "I tried to let him make the first move, and then I just did my best," Crozier explained.

Bill Gadsby put the Red Wings back into the lead in the second period 51 seconds after Ralph Backstrom had tied things up.

Henderson, explaining his winning goal, said: "Gump Worsley came out after me and I just shot the puck under him as he fell. I should have had another goal but fired too high."

Girls Softball Meeting Tuesday

The Escanaba Women's Softball League will meet Tuesday, April 26, at Club 314 at 7:30 p.m.

All teams must be represented and must turn in a list of players and sponsors. Deadline for obtaining sponsors will be set.

All interested girls who are 15, or will reach that age by June 15, are eligible to join a team in the league. They will be placed on teams at the Tuesday meeting.

Officers will be elected Tuesday. Paul Vardigan, acting city recreation director, will draw up the league schedule.

Unknowns Pace Dallas Tourney

DALLAS (AP)—The $85,000 Dallas Open rolls into its final mud-splattered round today with two golfers who never won a PGA tournament closely pursued by two who were supposed to fight for it in the first place.

Harold Henning, a South African who has won a lot of tournaments around the world but never in the United States, and John Lotz, who professes to be in awe of the big names of the game, pushed into a tie for the lead Sunday.

Doug Sanders, who had topped at the 36-hole mark with 137, had water and tree trouble out on the soggy 6,923-yard Oak Cliff Country Club course and the best he could do was shoot a one-under-par 70.

This might be considered quite good in any tournament other than this one, where teeing up rules have allowed the players to batter par 69 times in the last two days.

Lotz celebrated his 25th birthday by shooting an eight-under-par 63 — one stroke over the Oak Cliff Country Club course record — and his 205 looked like a fairly safe lead until Henning, the quiet, lanky man from Johannesburg, South Africa, came in with a 65 that put him, also, at 205.

Sanders wasn't in too bad a shape though, because he was only two strokes back at 207. Gary Brewer, cofavorite with Sanders for the $15,000 first money, also rested at 207.

Joining them at two strokes away was Ken Still, who eagled the 18th hole with an 80-foot chip shot for a 67.

Limit Reached On Bowl Games

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—No new football bowl games won certification by the National Collegiate Athletic Association which announced today it was holding the line with nine established postseason tilts.

Elimination of its all-star football certification program was also taken under consideration by the NCAA in its sessions in San Francisco.

Hazel Park Set To Open Season

DETROIT (AP)—Hazel Park Race Track was ready to go ahead with its 1966 thoroughbred racing season today, a labor dispute settled. The season's first card was scheduled this afternoon.

But a horsemen's boycott still threatened to prevent the opening tonight of the Wolverine Raceway's harness season at the Detroit Race Course in Livonia. Horsemen are demanding a larger cut of the betting handle.

Hazel Park's 500 track workers, members of the Building Services Employees Union, accepted a four-year contract increasing daily wages to a range of $24.50 to $49 by 1968. The employees include mutuels workers, admissions clerks, maintenance men and track police.

Esquimo Track Team In Home Debut Tuesday

The Esquimo track and field squad will make its first home appearance of the season Tuesday in a dual meet with the Marquette Redmen.

The Esquimos have been in action twice this spring, topping the Class A-B field in the Northern Indoor meet and winning a triangular at Manistique with the Emeralds and Gladstone Braves last week.

Remainder of the Esquimo season schedule:

April 26—Marquette here

April 30—Great Northern here

May 4—Invitational at Soo

May 7—At Menominee

May 10—Holy Name, Iron Mountain here

May 14—Regional here

May 21—U.P. Finals at Marquette

Ken Lewis Team Wins Tournament

The Ken Lewis team captured first place in the first annual Blatz-Pabst bowling tournament at the Bowl-A-Rama Lanes Sunday with a 3052 handicap total.

Members of the team were Lewis, William Zick, Homer LaCase, Bob Crepeau, Rolfe Palzewicz. A field of 16 teams from throughout the county took part in the tournament sponsored by Bernie Ammel.

Tiger Is Choice To Retain Crown Against Welter

NEW YORK (AP)—Welterweight king Emile Griffith hopes to catch up to a tiring Dick Tiger in the late rounds and then knock him out in their battle of boxing champions at Madison Square Garden tonight.

The odds, however, favor the 36-year-old Tiger by 8-5 to make a successful defense of his mid-decade title against the 28-year-old challenger.

The 15-rounder is scheduled to start at 9 p.m. EST.

"I'll be going for a knockout in the late rounds," said the confident Griffith. "I'll be going for it as soon as Tiger gets tired. When you see me go after him, you'll know that I know he's tired."

"If there's going to be a knockout, the victim won't be me," said Tiger, a Nigerian who never has been stopped or dropped. "I think it will go 15 rounds. He's a good fighter and a good fighter. But when it's over I'll still be the middleweight champion."

Griffith is bidding to become the third welterweight (147 pounds limit) champion to capture the middleweight crown

This will be the superbly conditioned Tiger's first title defense since he regained the crown from Joey Giardello on a 15-round decision at the Garden last Oct. 21. It will be his sixth title fight in his two-time reign. He first won the title from Gene Fullmer in 1962 and lost it to Giardello in 1963.

Griffith will be engaging in his 12th championship contest in a three-time reign as king of the welterweights. He has a 9-2 record in title fights.

The battle of the champions, which could be the fight of the year, may lure some 15,000 customers and gross $150,000. It also will be telecast to 60 or more stations from coast to coast. The New York area will be blacked out of the live telecast.

A pro 14 years, Tiger has a 54-143 won-lost-draw record, including 25 knockouts. Griffith, a pro nearly eight years, has a 49-7 record, including 18 knockouts. He has been stopped once, by middleweight contender Rubin Carter in the first round at Pittsburgh, Dec. 20, 1963.

Yankees Sustain Sixth Straight Setback; Orioles Extend String

By The Associated Press

If the New York Yankees are having trouble sleeping these nights, you can be sure they're not counting Robinsons.

Frank and Brooks didn't clear any fences Sunday, but they did figure in both of Baltimore's runs as the Orioles edged the hapless Yankees 2-1 and stretched a pair of streaks to six.

The Orioles now have won six straight and are 8-1 overall while the Yankees have dropped six in a row and are 1-9 overall.

Of the Yankees' 10 games, five have been against Baltimore. And in those five — one victory and four defeats — the Robinsons have been a nightmare to New York.

Against the Yankees, they collectively have rapped 16 hits in 34 times at bat for a .471 average, socked six doubles and two homers, scored seven runs and driven in 12. The Yankees have scored only 13 runs in the five games.

Against the whole league, Frank is hitting .467 with four homers and 13 runs scored while Brooks has a .405 average with 18 runs batted in.

"The Yankees' hitting doesn't quite reach those lofty levels," Roy White is the only regular above .300 at .318 while Bobby Richardson is hitting a good .289. But then comes Tom Tresh .263, Joe Pepitone .266, Mickey Mantle .200, Elston Howard and Roger Maris .156 and Clete Boyer .066.

As a team, the Yankees are hitting .199.

In other American League games Minnesota defeated California 5-3, Detroit swept Washington 4-0 and 4-1 and Chicago edged Kansas City 4-3 in 10 innings. Rain washed out a doubleheader between Cleveland and Boston.

Brooks Robinson doubled in the Orioles' first run in the first inning, then teamed with Frank for consecutive doubles and the decisive run in the sixth.

Minnesota stopped its five-game losing streak behind the hitting of Don Mincher. Mincher hit a two-run homer in the third and drove in another run with a single in the fourth. Rick Reichardt's two-run homer drove Twins' starter Camilo Pascual from the mound in the seventh.

A triple and a home run by Norm Cash powered the Tigers in the second game. Joe Sparna stymied the Senators on one hit until the seventh inning when he needed relief help from Larry Sherry.

Ken Berry led off the 10th inning with a triple and trotted home with Chicago's winning run on Tom McCraw's single. Kansas City tied the game in the ninth when Dick Green singled, stole second and scored on a single by Ed Charles.

GLADSTONE

Weather Mild, Troopers Busy

The natives apparently are growing restless with the mild spring weather.

State Police were kept busy over the weekend investigating a series of minor complaints, but traffic on area highways moved safely.

William E. Jones Jr., Rte. 2, Gladstone, reported someone shot up his mailbox and Leo Shinauer, Arnold, reported windows were broken in a house he owns on Co. Rd. 537 in Wells Township, Marquette County.

Stonington B&E Reported

A quantity of beer and cigarettes, a package of hot dogs and $2 in change was taken from Bay de Noc Superette at Stonington in a breaking and entering sometime Saturday night, State Police reported.

Troopers said entry was gained by breaking the front door of the store, which is owned by Feder Pederson, who served for many years on the County Board of Supervisors.

State Police are investigating.

Elmer Lepisto of Rock told police that four park benches in the Rock Lions Club Community Park had been destroyed. Troopers said someone apparently broke up the benches in an effort to free a car which was stuck.

Daniel J. Armatti, 20, of Princeton, Mich., was ticketed for making an unsafe start after he backed into a car driven by Gary L. Howard, 20, of 522 N. 19th St., at 6:45 p.m. Sunday. Troopers said both cars had stopped at an intersection of Co. Rd. 428, Wells Township, Marquette County, when Armatti backed up. Police said he was trying to turn around.

Two motorists struck deer with their cars. They were Frank Destrampe, 310 N. 12th St., Escanaba and Edward C. Putman, Iron Mountain.

Tickets were issued to the following drivers by State Police: Richard N. Carroll, Perkins, excessive noise; Patrick L. Campbell, Kingsford, speeding; Roger T. Richer, Rte. 2, Bark River, no operator's license; Toivo Pajunen, Gladstone, driving left of center; Joseph H. Mosier, Perkins, disregarded stop sign.

Missionary Society
Women's Missionary Society of Bethel Evangelical Free Church will meet at the church at 2 p.m. Wednesday. Hostesses are Mrs. Albert Mattson and Mrs. Harold Berg.

Lila's Snares Dartball Crown

Lila captured the Gladstone Woman's Dartball League second half tournament championship by defeating Idle Time in the finals.

Lincoln House beat Bill's Bar in consolation. Top tournament batter was Rose Noskey with a .404 average.

The banquet will be at the Gladstone Legion Hall April 30 with a cocktail hour from 7 to 8.

Breakin Probed At Warehouse

Gladstone Police are investigating a breaking and entering at Cloverland Milling and Supply warehouse on Superior Ave.

City police said entry was gained by breaking locks and several bags of cement and fertilizer were slashed and contents scattered about the building. Nothing was taken from the building.

Officers said the breakin happened either Saturday or Sunday night.

Social

Job's Daughters
Job's Daughters, Bethel 7, will open their regular meeting at the Masonic Temple at 6:15 p.m. Monday prior to going to Escanaba to join with the Bethels from from Escanaba, Manistique and Menominee for a meeting with Associate Grand Guardian, Dr. Wallace O'Brien, of Rochester, Mich.

Missionary Society
Women's Missionary Society of Bethel Evangelical Free Church will meet at the church at 2 p.m. Wednesday. Hostesses are Mrs. Albert Mattson and Mrs. Harold Berg.

Ryun Runs Best Mile Of Season

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP) — Precocious Jim Ryun, whose 3:55.8 mile at the Kansas Relays was swiftest in the world this year, is America's premiere miler because of his willingness and ability to endure pain.

"This is the secret — his ability to push back the pain barrier," said Bob Timmons, coach of the 18-year-old Kansas freshman. "If you keep working long and hard the pain becomes terrific."

"If you want to be great, you can't let down. Jim has the will and ability to fight it through. He does it day after day in practice."

Ryun's time was just a half-second off his American citizens record of 3:55.3 at the National AAU last year. Teammate Tom Yergovich paced him to a 1:58.7 Saturday, his best half-mile time ever during a mile race. Ryun steamed the last 220 in 26 flat compared to 26.6 in his record AAU race.

Rice won three Relays crowns, Oklahoma State and Kansas two each at the 41st Kansas Games. Eight meet records were smashed, thanks to seven hours of labor on a track sodden from a heavy overnight rain.

Don Giovanni Educational TV Week Highlight

MARQUETTE — "Don Giovanni," often considered the greatest opera ever written, will be presented in a three-hour program at 8 p.m. Friday, April 29, by Northern Michigan University's educational television system, WNMU-TV.

At 8 tonight the "International Magazine" series will feature Thailand's royal family. "Free at Last," part five of the "History of the Negro People" series, will be presented at 8 p.m. Tuesday.

The Red China question in terms of what the United States knows and still needs to learn about the Asia power will be appraised by a New York Times team at 8 p.m. Wednesday.

This week's Northern Dimensions program, at 10 p.m. Wednesday, will focus on teaching as a career and profession. Entitled "Teaching — Retrospect and Prospect," the program will feature William C. Peterson, Ishpeming superintendent of schools, Dr. W. A. Berg, acting dean of education at NMU, Kasper Marking, assistant professor of psychology and education, and Keith Forsberg, NMU placement director.

"No Surrender," an analysis of how toddlers gain a host of new skills which ready them for their first encounters with society, is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Thursday. The program will be followed at 8 p.m. by the fourth in "The Radical Americans" series, entitled "Who Teaches Them?"

The Rambler, a revolutionary scientific space sounding rocket, will be discussed by one of its University of Michigan designers at 7:30 p.m. Friday.

Two Escanabans To Get Degrees At U. Of Detroit

DETROIT — Two men from Escanaba will be among more than 1,400 students receiving degrees from the University of Detroit at commencement exercises April 30.

They are John McCarthy, son of Mr. and Mrs. John McCarthy, 1819 S. 16th St., and Duane Bernard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Palmer Bernard, 1200 N. 18th St.

McCarthy will be awarded a bachelor of arts degree from the College of Arts and Sciences. He is a graduate of Holy Name High School and majored in psychology. He was on the Saint Francis Club Board of Governors and was active in residence hall government.

Bernard will receive a bachelor of science degree in mechanical engineering. He is a member of Tau Beta Pi, national engineering honorary and Alpha Sigma Lambda, national honor society of evening students.

Graduation exercises will be held in the 8,500-seat U. of D. Memorial Building. The Very Rev. Laurence V. Britt, S.J., U. of D. president, will award diplomas.

In a break with tradition dating back to 1881, there will not be a commencement address.

National Airport Joining Jet Age

WASHINGTON (AP) — Washington National Airport has joined the jet age.

The first of the regularly scheduled jet operations was the takeoff Sunday of American Airlines Flight 389 to Chicago. The Federal Aviation Agency says about 100 takeoffs and landings will occur daily.

Car Hits Ditch; Charge Youth As Reckless Driver

Norman O. Arnold, 18, of 210 N. 12th St., Escanaba, was to be arraigned today in Municipal Court charged with reckless driving.

Escanaba police said that Arnold, driving at high speed and going north on Sheridan Road at 1:15 p.m. Sunday, swerved and went into the ditch at the Power Plant Road. He was treated at St. Francis Hospital and released.

Also to be arraigned today were two Escanaba Rte. 1 youths charged with attempting to steal a tire off a car in a used car lot in the 1600 block, 5th Ave. N., at 3:12 a.m. Saturday, Escanaba police reported.

They are Leonard C. Peterson, 17, and Patrick H. Mattson, 18, both of Escanaba Rte. 1.

City police over the weekend issued traffic court summonses to Joanne M. Peterson, 1501 8th Ave. S., failing to stop in the assured clear distance; Gene P. Smith, 302 N. 10th St., improper starting; Fedos E. Aneschenko, 947 Washington Ave., improper turn; Gary H. Boudreau, 322 S. 8th St., Ronald W. Young, 615 Ludington, and Rodney G. Lemerand, 1608 Washington Ave., all for speeding.

Auto Negligence Suit Opens In Circuit Court

Testimony before a Circuit Court jury began this morning in the suit of Mrs. Donald (Elaine) Feller, 1615 3rd Ave. S., against Film Services, Inc., of Milwaukee.

Judge Bernard H. Davidson is presiding.

Clair Hoehn, attorney for the plaintiff, asked $33,816 in damages for Mrs. Feller as compensation for injuries she suffered in an automobile accident about 2:50 a.m. on May 20, 1964.

Mrs. Feller was a passenger in a car driven by Elaine Anderson of Escanaba which ran into the rear of a Film Service truck which was parked in the 2300 block of S. 23rd St. The plaintiff alleges her injuries were suffered as a result of negligence on the part of the driver in parking the truck in a no parking zone.

A jury of eight women and four men is hearing the case.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain—without surgery.

In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place.

Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!"

The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne)—discovery of a world-famous research institute. This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form under the name Preparation H®. At all drug counters.

SHRINE CHARITY BALL dancers enjoyed the gala program Saturday night that brought contributions to the Shrine Children's Hospitals. These hospitals and burn centers are devoted to charity treatment of patients regardless of race, creed or color. A capacity crowd attended the Ball and honored guests included Potentate of Ahmid Temple, Noble Milo Underhill of Marquette and his Divan.

City Lays Dust, Rouses Trouble With Street Oil

These are troubled days for Kenneth Tushak, Escanaba public works superintendent, and all because he's trying to do a good job and pour oil on dusty streets.

Escanaba has only a small mileage of unsurfaced streets. But in dry weather they are dusty and the cause of complaint on the part of the people who reside along them. The best treatment is a layer of dust-setting oil.

Today the city layed the dust with 5,000 gallons of oil. By noontime a few mothers of small children were ready to heat some of the oil and boil the city in it. The children walked in the oil and tracked it into the house, they complained.

Tushak said the oil used this year is of a quality that should more quickly absorb into the street and hold down the dust longer without causing chuck-holes.

As for the complaints—well, people were calling before because the streets were so dusty.

Reedy Leaving Johnson Staff

WASHINGTON (AP)—George E. Reedy, who has worked for President Johnson for 15 years, is leaving the White House staff.

Reedy, a presidential assistant since he left the office of press secretary last July, will join an engineering firm, it was reported Sunday.
